

of the nave and chancel are the same height, and are crowned by an elaborate cornice, below which the walls are inlaid with patterns of various coloured stones (among which the Rosedale ironstone is frequently intermixed), occupying the position of a clerestory: the glass and other decorations of the memorial chapel represent the life and character of J. Shepherd, to whose memory the whole church was erected; the windows illustrate the six Acts of Mercy described in Matthew xxv.; the aisles have stained windows at the west end; the whole of the windows in the chancel are memorial offerings: there is a stained window in memory of the Rev. John Cass Glaves, d. 1859: there is a double sedil in the south side of the chancel: the communion table is of plain oak: the reredos is of Caen stone, containing in the centre a representation in incised work of the Lord's Supper—"Do this in Remembrance of Me," flanked by "Our Lord entering into Jerusalem," on the north, and on the south side by "Jesus going out to Calvary;" a low wall in Caen stone separates the nave and chancel, with iron screen of delicate scroll work, upon which is a brass lectern: the circular pulpit is against the north-east respond of the nave arcade, and the body is divided by shafts into seven panels, upon which are incised standing figures of Noah, Moses, Jonah, Elijah, John the Baptist, St. Paul and St. Peter: the font is of Caen stone, and stands in the centre between the two entrance doors: the portions of the church where there are no seats are laid with coloured tiles, as are also the vestry and narthex: the altar cloth is of the richest crimson velvet, and is embroidered with a rich cross, and consists of a frontal and super-frontal with silk fringe spiced of various colours: there is a splendid two manual organ in panelled oak case, with the front pipes richly diapered: J. L.

Dixon William

Harding John

Lancaster Mrs

Lister Rev. Thomas L.R. [vicar], The Vicarage

Shepherd Mrs. Appleton hall

White James.

COMMERCIAL.

Bailey William, shopkeeper

Barker David, farmer

Baxter James, boot & shoe maker

Clemitt Robert, farmer

Coates John, farmer

Cooper Thomas, farmer

Dowson John, carrier

Ellerker Robert, boot & shoe maker

Fewster Thos. Odd Fellows' Arms P.H. & farmer

Hammond John, market gardener

Harding Henry, blacksmith

Harding William, farmer

Milestone Matthew, wheelwright

Otterburn Henry Tomlinson, farmer

Otterburn John, tailor & postmaster

Peach Robert, farmer

Potter Richard, cowkeeper

Robinson George, farmer, Hamley

Shepherd John, blacksmith & vet. surgn

Shepherd William, farmer

Smith Matthew, New inn

Smith Ralph, stone mason

Smith Thomas, farmer

Tomlinson George, cartwright

Welbourn George, farmer

Welbourn James, farmer

White Geo. & Jn. farmers, Skipter's hagg

White George, shopkeeper

White John, market gardener

Wilson John, farmer

Worsfold Geo. gardener to Mrs. Shepherd

APPLETON-LE-STREET is a village and parish, situated on the old road from Hovingham to Malton, $\frac{3}{4}$ miles west-north-west from Malton and 1 mile west from Anotherby station on the Thirsk and Malton branch of the North Eastern railway. The parish consists of the townships of ANOTHERBY, BROUGHTON, HILDENLEY and SWINTON, also the hamlet of EASTHORPE, in the Thirsk and Malton division of the Riding, Ryedale wapentake, Malton union, petty sessional division and county court district, rural deanery of Helmsley, archdeaconry of Cleveland and diocese of York. The church of All Saints is an ancient building of stone, in the Norman style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisles, north porch and a western tower containing 2 bells: the foundation and some part of the base of the tower are probably of Saxon date: the church was restored and re-seated in 1855 by the then vicar, the late Rev. Charles Pierrepont Peach M.A., to whose memory a three-light stained window was inserted in the south aisle, in 1886, by the parishioners: there are 150 sittings. The register dates from the year 1680. The living is a vicarage, the rent-charge £182, gross yearly value £400, including 262 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of Mrs. Peach, and held since 1888 by the Rev. Thomas Crofts Ward M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge: the impropriate tithes amount to £215. There are charities of £3 10s. yearly value. James Fairbank esq. is lord of the manor and chief landowner. The soil is partly clay and sandy; the subsoil is limestone and sand. The chief crops are wheat, barley and some land in pasture. The population of the parish in 1881 was 955, and of the township 178, and the acreage of the township is 843; rateable value, £1,762, of the entire parish of 1,633 acres.

Parish Clerk, John Whitehead.

Letters through Malton, the nearest money order & telegraph office, arrive at 8.30 a.m.

Broughton is a township in the parish of Appleton-le-Street, $\frac{1}{2}$ miles north-west from Malton. This was a Roman settlement. Thomas Isherwood esq. J.P. of Springfield House, Heywood, Lancs. is lord of the manor. The chief landowners are the lord of the manor, Thomas Walker

J.P. of The Woodlands, Doncaster, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wright. The soil and subsoil are clay and limestone. The chief crops are wheat and barley. The area is 855 acres; rateable value, £1,176; the population in 1881 was 109.

WALL LETTER BOX cleared at 5.15 p.m.

Easthorpe is a hamlet, $\frac{3}{4}$ miles west from Malton. Easthorpe Hall is the residence of the Hon. Edward Lyulph Stanley M.A. James Fairbank esq. is lord of the manor, and the Earl of Carlisle and the Earl Fitzwilliam K.G. are the chief landowners. The soil is limy and clayey; the subsoil, oolithic limestone and clay. The chief crops are wheat, oats, barley &c. The acreage is 711.

Hildenley is a small township in this parish, 2 miles west-by-south from Malton. Hildenley Hall, the seat of Sir Charles William Strickland bart. D.L., J.P. lord of the manor and sole landowner, is an ancient stone building, pleasantly situated in a park of 270 acres. The soil is limy and clayey; the subsoil is limestone rock and clay. The acreage is 270; rateable value, £343; the population in 1881 was 43.

Swinton is a township and village in the parish of Appleton-le-Street, three-quarters of a mile south-east from Anotherby station and 2 miles north-west from Malton. There are Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels. A. W. Headlam esq. who is lord of the manor, W. H. Garforth esq. Thos. Preston D.L., J.P. of Norton, and William and Robert Wyse esq.s. are the chief landowners. Swinton Grange, distant half a mile, is the residence of William Henry Garforth esq. The soils are limestone, rock and clay; subsoil, various. The chief crops are wheat and barley, and there is some land in pasture. The acreage is 1,200; rateable value, £1,755; the population in 1881 was 345.

Letters through Malton arrive at 6.30 a.m. WALL LETTER

Box cleared at 5 p.m. week days only. The nearest money order & telegraph office is at Malton

Infant School (mixed), erected in 1858, for 250 children; average attendance, 30; Mrs. Edith Wilson, mistress

CARRIERS TO MALTON.—William Howe, twice daily

Appleton-le-Street.

Cooper Francis William

Peach Mrs

Ward Rev. Thos. Crofts M.A. [vicar]

Bradford Henry, farmer

Ellerby John, farmer

Fairbank James, farmer & landowner

Fletcher William, blacksmith

Hobbs William, Cresswell Arms P.H.

Whitehead Jn. m.rkt. grdn'r. & parish clerk

Wilson John, farmer

Broughton.

Crow William, farmer
Duggieley William, farmer
Hutchinson John, market gardener
Pearson John, farmer, Hazel house
Wilson Job, shoe maker
Wright Eliz. (Mrs.), farmer & freeholder

Easthorpe.

Stanley Hon. Edward Lynagh M.A.
Easthorpe hall
Penwick John, farmer
Thompson Robert, farmer, Bog hall

Hildenley.

Strickland Sir Charles William bart.
M.A., D.L., F.R.S. Hildenley hall

APPLETON-UPON-WISK is the extreme township and a parochial chapelry in Great Smeaton parish, in that part of Cleveland which runs out into a narrow point towards the west, 7 miles south from Yarm, 3 north from Northallerton, 10 west from Stokesley and about 3 miles south from the Pickton station on the North Yorkshire and Cleveland branch of the North Eastern railway, and about the same distance north from the Wellbury station: it is in the Cleveland division of the Riding, petty sessional division of Yarm, union and county court district of Northallerton, west division of Langbaurgh liberty, rural deanery of East Richmond, archdeaconry of Richmond and diocese of Ripon. Appleton-upon-Wisk is mentioned as "Apeltune" in Domesday, and the manor after the Conquest belonged to Robert de Bras, Lord of Skelton, who gave it with Hornby and other lands to St. Mary's Abbey, York. After the Dissolution, Henry VIII. granted it to Charles Brandon, afterwards Duke of Suffolk, whence it passed through many hands. The church of St. Mary's, which stands in the western part of the village, is a small ancient edifice of stone, having chancel, nave and south porch, with a western turret and one bell: it was thoroughly repaired in 1875. The register dates from the year 1650. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £80,

Heseltine Francis

Lincoln Mrs

Routhedge Robert

Unthunk Robert Elstob
COMMERCIAL.

Alderson John, Queen's Head inn

Alexander Charles, farmer

Atkinson John, grocer

Bainbridge Isaac, farmer

Blenkinsop Elizabeth (Mrs.), shopkeeper

Carter Richard, farmer

Chipchase Robert, cowkeeper

Coleman James, cowkeeper

Delafield Jr. trav. tea dr. & postmaster

Dodds Thomas, farmer

Easby James, tailor

Easby Mary Eliz. (Mrs.), dress maker

Easby Thomas, shoe maker

ARKENGARTHDALE is a township and parish, in the dale of the same name, situated on the Richmond, Reeth and Brough road, about 10 miles south from Barnard Castle, 14 west from Richmond, 9 north-west from Redmire railway station on the Northallerton and Hawes branch of the North Eastern railway, 4 north-west from Reeth, in the Richmond division of the Riding, West Gilling wapentake and petty sessional division, Reeth union, county court district of Richmond, rural deanery and archdeaconry of Richmond and diocese of Ripon. It comprises the hamlets of ARKLETOWN, LONGTHWAITE, BOOZE, HIGH GREEN, SEAL HOUSES, ESKLETH and WHAW, and extends 7 or 8 miles in length. The church of St. Mary, situated in the centre of the dale, about a quarter of a mile from Longthwaite, which is the largest village in the dale, is a plain stone building, erected in 1818, consisting of a rectangular body with a portion railed off to form a quasi chancel, south porch, and has an embattled western tower containing 3 bells and a clock with two dials: it contains monuments to George Brown esq. and the Rev. John Gilpin, and a smaller one to Mrs. Jemima Gilpin, his wife. The register dates from the year 1729, with a few entries from an earlier book no longer in existence: the oldest of these is of the date 1659. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £161, including 19 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of Sir Charles Hugh Lowther bart. and held since 1868 by the Rev. John Tinkler M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge, and surrogate. The Wesleyan chapel at Longthwaite is a building of stone, erected in 1882, at a cost of £1,621: the old chapel is now used as a Sunday school. Here is a

Jackson James, steward to Sir C. W. Strickland bart. F.R.S.
Parkinson Salomon, farmer, Tricky castle
COMMERCIAL.

Garfirth Wm. Henry, Swinton grange
Allerton Henry, market gardener
Allerton Henry, jun. machine owner
Boyes Zachariah, shoe maker
Cooper Henry, rag & bone dealer
Fenwick John, jun. farmer
Foster Thomas, blacksmith
Garforth William Henry, farmer & landowner, Swinton grange
Harland George, blacksmith
Hickson John, butcher

Howe Mary (Mrs.), shopkeeper
Howe William, carrier
Jackson Isaac, farmer
Masterman Thomas, tailor
Masterman William, market gardener
Minton Joseph, farmer
Robson John, market gardener
Stockwell Harper, farmr. Swinton heights
Snowden George, shopkeeper
Snowden Thomas, shopkeeper
Thompson George, farmer & freeholder
Thompson Thomas, market gardener
Towse John, Blacksmiths' Arms F.R.S.
Waite George, wheelwright
Waite Richard, shoe maker
Wice William, market gardener
Wilson James, market gardener

in the gift of trustees, and held since 1879 by the Rev. R. H. Killick M.A. of Queens' College, Cambridge, rector of Great Smeaton. Rev. J. K. Taylor M.A. of Pembroke College, Oxford, is the curate in charge. Here are Congregational, Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels. There is a Mechanics' Institute, with a library of 700 volumes. The Wisk is a small rivulet which runs close to the town. Lt.-Gen. Sir Henry Vaneck Allan bart. M.V.C. is lord of the manor. Robert Routledge esq. Mrs. Lincoln and Francis Scott esq. are chief landowners. The soil is clayey; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and beans. The area is 1,827 acres; rateable value, £2,312: the population in 1881 was 331.

Parish Clerk, John Robson.

POST OFFICE.—John Delafield, receiver. Letters through Northallerton arrive at 10 a.m.; dispatched at 4.20 p.m.

The nearest money order & telegraph office is at Great Smeaton.

A School Board of 5 members was established Feb. 22, 1872; J. Delafield, clerk to the board; John Robson, attendance officer.

Board School, opened January, 1873, for 93 children; average attendance, 54; John Cameron, master.

Foster Abraham, farmer

Garnett Edward, cowkeeper

Gibson William, cowkeeper

Green Robert, boot & shoe maker

Harrison James, boot & shoe maker

Hebron Ann (Mrs.), farmer

Horner Ann (Mrs.), farmer

Jackson William, cowkeeper

Jefferson Francis, Lord Nelson inn, & blacksmith

Kitching Robert, bricklayer

Lunn George, saddler

Mawer Elizabeth (Mrs.), butcher & fram

Mechanics' Institute (J. Cameron, sec.)

Mitchell George, cowkeeper

Park James & Son, joiners & wheelwrights

Park Ursula (Miss), dress maker

Passman James, shopkeeper

Peacock William, joiner & wheelwright

Reah William, farmer, Moerhouse

Routledge Richard, farmer

Routledge Robert, farmer

Russell William, bricklayer

Sarney Henry, farmer

Scott John, cowkeeper

Smith Walter, farmer

Stephenson George, tailor

Stoddart John, cowkeeper

Todd Frederick, bricklayer

Todd Walter, farmer

Trewitt John, farmer

Waddington Thomas, saddler

Wheatley William, shopkeeper

Wilkinson James, farmer

Wilkinson Thomas, farmer

literary institute. Lead is obtained here in large quantities. There are smelting and saw mills in connection with the mines; coal and slate are also found. George Gilpin-Brown esq. F.R.S. is lord of the manor. Mrs. Peacock and J. T. Hird esq. are the principal landowners. The soil is loamy, chiefly moorland and grass. The area is 14,256 acres; rateable value, £6,248; the population in 1881 was 999.

Arkletown is a small village about 3 miles north-west from Reeth, in Arkengarthdale.

Booze is 3 miles north-west from Reeth.

Longthwaite, situated near the centre of Arkengarthdale, is a village 4 miles west-by-south from Reeth, and about a quarter of a mile from the church; it is the largest village in the dale.

Whaw is 5½ miles north-west from Reeth, on the river Arkle.

Parish Clerk, Joseph Whitehead.

POST & M. O. O., S. E. & Annuity & Insurance Office, Longthwaite.—Mrs. Ann Birmingham, postmistress. Letters through Richmond, via Reeth, arrive at 10.20 a.m.; dispatched at 4.45 p.m.; no Sunday dispatch or delivery.

The nearest telegraph office is at Reeth.

Church of England Endowed School (mixed), under government inspection; Henry Groves, certificated master.

CARRIERS TO:

BARNARD CASTLE—Thos. Atkinson & John Hillary, wed.

RICHMOND—John Whitehead & John Alderson, sat.

John Hillary, Geo. Stubbs & Wm. Carter from C Byrd

C. B. Lead Mining Co. (Wm. Whitwell esq. manager)

Cartel Josph. mining accountant, C Byrd

Arkengarthdale.

Gilpin-Brown George J.P. Scar house

Tinkler Rev. John M.A. Vicarage

COMMERCIAL.

Bell William, farmer, Tottergill

Brown Edmund, farmer, High Faggerill